DE VALERA TO RETURN

Sinn Fein Sympathizers Meet Leader When He Arrives.

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, July 21.—The conversations between Mr. Lloyd-George and Eamonn De Valera, from which it was hoped the basis for an Irish peace conference might emerge, have been terminated for the present without that objective having been obtained.

At the final meeting of the British prime minister and the Irish republican leader today Mr. Lloyd-George submitted definite proposals which were represented as the considered judgments of himself and the cabinet as constituting suitable grounds to bring forward full fledged peace parleys, based on the interviews of the past week with Mr. De Valera and Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier.

Proposal Is Short.
The proposal itself, it was learned, authoritatively, comprised less than ten articles. Whether it met with a flat rejection by the Irish republican leader or was taken by him without comment or review by him to his colleagues in Dublin, was concealed by the brief joint communiqué issued after the meeting.

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, July 21.—The basis for a conference to attempt the settlement of the Irish question has not yet been found, it was announced in the official communiqué issued after the conference today between Eamonn De Valera and Premier Lloyd-George, who have been conferring with the object of finding such a basis.

Mr. De Valera and his colleagues, adds the communiqué, will return to Dublin tomorrow and will communicate with Mr. Lloyd-George after further discussion with his followers there.

When De Valera arrived at the Downing Street residence this morning a large crowd of Sinn Fein sympathizers were on hand to cheer the leader. While a number recited the rosary, others waved Sinn Fein flags and sang Irish songs.

When De Valera returns to Dublin the prevailing opinion here is that he will carry a bulky document in which Ireland is offered dominion home rule with the British empire, similar to the government of south Africa.

While failure marked all efforts to penetrate official secrecy, home rule is the most favorable prediction of those said to be qualified to be beyond the veil that obscures the details of the negotiations since De Valera came to London.

Campbell Russell, chairman of the commission, yesterday spoke to the interstate commerce commission about the car conditions on the Orient and Katy railroads, where a similar shortage is reported.

COUNTRY WARNED OF TRADE SLUMP

"America First" Does Not
Describe Our Commerce
Banker Says.

(By the Associated Press)
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 21.—When "America First" is made to mean decrying the importance of America's foreign trade, it is not well said, Dr. Walter Lichtenstein, executive secretary of the First National Bank of Chicago, told the American Institute of Banking here today. On the contrary, he held, a large foreign trade is vital to the prosperity of some of the most important of America's business, particularly agriculture.

"All of us believe in 'America First,'" Dr. Lichtenstein said. "That is what we are here for, to do everything possible to aid and develop the business of our own country. But we are not giving aid and comfort if we support a policy which is based upon the theory that our foreign trade is unimportant and that conditions will right themselves if we will only look to our own affairs."

"It is true that our foreign trade amounts to possibly only five per cent of the total business done in this country, but, in the first place, any business man will tell you that five per cent difference often spells success or failure as the case may be. In the second place, when we say that our foreign business amounts to only five per cent of the total business done in this country, remember that this is only a general average including every commercial and manufacturing activity known."

"Of the most important of all industries, however, agriculture, the foreign trade is vastly larger than merely five per cent. We must export 250,000,000 to 300,000,000 bushels of wheat. Of the 11,000,000 or 12,000,000 bales of cotton which we produce yearly, 6,000,000 bales must be sent abroad in order to find a market, and in Chicago we realize that the large packing establishments, so vital to the business of the Middle West, cannot prosper without a large foreign trade."

HEARING ON AUTO CASE IS DELAYED

Preliminaries of Three Men Will be Continued Until July 28.

The preliminary hearing of Eugene Augustus, Ed Stewart and Claude Hall, charged with stealing a touring car on July 5 from L. A. Thomason of Allen, which was to have opened this morning before Justice of the Peace H. J. Brown today, was continued on the petition of the county attorney's office until July 28.

Augustus will be represented in the preliminary by the law firm of Wimish and Huffar and Stewart and Hall will be represented by King and Crawford.

Cases have flooded the justice court this week and after a heavy grind in the county court, County Attorney Wayne Wadlington was unable to get to the automobile preliminary this morning. A conflict in time also arose between the Roff killing preliminaries and those on the automobile theft charge, the former lasting over until today.

In complaints filed by the county attorney's office, the three defendants are charged with the larceny of a car valued at $500, alleged to have been found by officers in Augustus' garage here. Two automobiles, the one involved in the alleged theft at Sulphur and the one from Allen are being held by the county attorney's office as evidence. In both cases, it is charged, attempts have been made to change the identity of the car by effacing or changing the engine numbers.

THREE MEN HELD IN PRELIMINARY MURDER HEARING

Good, Dyer, and Chapman
Are Bound Over to District Court.

GOOD'S ISSUE FOUGHT

Arguments of Attorneys
Last Two Hours Describing Shooting.

Jim Good, Dick Chapman and Obie Dyer will face the district court in October, charged with the murder of George Martin at Roff on the night of May 2, this year.

The three were bound over at the conclusion of a long preliminary hearing which ended at 12:30 this afternoon. When Justice of the Peace H. J. Brown announced his decision, the trio was remanded to the county jail without bond.

Attorneys for the state and the defense consumed two hours in arguing the case. Shortly after 10:30 this morning when the defense rested its case, Attorney A. L. Bullock announced his intention of arguing merits of the testimony. County Attorney Wayne Wadlington declared that the state was willing to submit the case without discussion but after being challenged by the defense opened the argument. He was followed by A. L. Bullock. Robert Wimish, assisting in the prosecution, closed for the state a few minutes before 12:30.

Case Centers on Good.
Arguments in the preliminary hearing of the three men centered largely around Jim Good. His location at the time the shots were fired was questioned repeatedly by both sides. Attorneys for Good attempted to show in testimony and argument that Good was at home when George Martin was shot and was in no way connected in the alleged "conspiracy" to kill Martin. Witnesses for the state said Good was seen on the streets a few minutes after the shooting and in his rebuttal argument Atty. Wimish attempted to demonstrate to the court by a time test "what Good might have done on those few minutes."

At 5:30 yesterday afternoon the state rested in the case and within 40 minutes the defense had examined its four witnesses named when the preliminary opened. Attorneys said, however, that more witnesses would be called for their side when the court convened at 9 o'clock this morning.

Much of the testimony given in the preliminary hearing of Frank McClintock, charged with the murder, was reiterated Wednesday. Witnesses for the state went over the same stories of the killing and at several junctures A. L. Bullock and John Crawford, attorneys for the defense, opened hot cross-fire to test the memory of witnesses called by the prosecution. Several times records of the McClintock preliminary were referred to in the cross examination.

Sheriff Bob Duncan was placed on the stand repeatedly Wednesday afternoon by County Attorney Wayne Wadlington as new phases of the case were unfolded.

Harry Bunyard, an officer at Roff at the time of the Martin killing, told of finding the wounded man and bringing him to Ada. Enroute here, the two met S. B. Smith, who is said to have had a conversation with the shot man, part of which Bunyard said he did not hear.

McClintock Shot Me
"Frank McClintock shot me in cold blood. They robbed me," Martin is said to have told both Bunyard and Smith. Bunyard said he asked Martin "who robbed you," and he said "they." On the road to Ada, George Martin is also said to have told Harry Bunyard that he was dying and that he had been shot for his whiskey and his money. Here attorneys for the defense cross questioned Bunyard for several minutes and referred to his testimony taken in the Frank McClintock hearing.

A note written by Mrs. Martin wife of George Martin to Jim Good asking him to get George and the car and bring them home on the night of May 2 when he is said to have been drunk was introduced by the defense as an exhibit. This note was delivered to Albert Johnson with instructions to give it to Good or to Pat Strong, a howling alley proprietor of Roff, for delivery. The note was delivered to Strong but never reached Good, it was brought out. Good's whereabouts during and immediately after the shooting was made the ground of contention in the closing testimony of the state and throughout that of the defense. Attorney Robert Wimish, assisting in the prosecution, poured heavy questioning to Strong endeavoring to learn why the note from Mrs. Martin to Jim Good was not delivered.

FRENCH-ENGLISH RUPTURE FEARED

Reply to Note on Silesia
Is Described as Very
"Unyielding."

(By the Associated Press)
PARIS, July 21.—French official circles received a distinct shock from the British government's reply to the French suggestion that allied reinforcements be sent to upper Silesia and in some quarters today the Anglo-French relations were described as critical as a result.

The French government is said to have been unprepared for the "severity and unyielding tone" that this morning's newspapers indicated characterized the British communication.

While most newspapers agree that the incident brings the Anglo-French relations to a delicate point, the Journal says that it is probably not insoluble.

The Temps, commenting on the British desire for a meeting of the Supreme Council in the immediate future, offers the objection that the council would inevitably have to discuss the upper Silesian problem.

Aerial Transport Covers Vast Area in Desert Region

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, July 21.—Regions that would have to wait many years before they could be traversed by railroads are now quickly mastered by aerial transport. News comes today from the Air Ministry that a new air route has been opened up across the desert between Palestine and Mesopotamia. Notification has been received of the arrival at Bagdad of three airplanes of the Royal Air Force which have flown over this route.

The new route is about 580 miles long. It is an extension of the present Cairo-Ramleh route. It starts from Ramleh, where is the main Royal Air Force aerodrome in Palestine, passes through Amman East of the Jordan, and Kasr Azrak, where landing grounds have been prepared, and proceeds thence in an almost straight line across the Arabian desert to Ramadiah on the Euphrates, and thence to Bagdad.

The distances between the principal stations are as follows: Ramleh to Amman, 65 miles; Amman to Kasr Azrak, 55 miles; Kasr Azrak to Ramadiah, 400 miles; Ramadiah to Bagdad, 60 miles.

NORMAL TO CLOSE WORK FOR TERM

Rush of Students for Home
Will Open at Noon
Tomorrow.

Hundreds of Normal school students will start making their exodus from Ada tomorrow noon with the dismissal of the last class of the summer term. Enrollment this summer has been unusually heavy and railways passing through Ada are expecting crowded trains for at least two days after the close of the Normal.

With the commencement address this morning by Dr. W. A. Brandenburg, president of the Pittsburg, Kansas state normal, the end of the session was in sight. Bachelor of arts degrees were awarded by President A. Linscheid to six students and life diplomas were issued to a record graduating class. Twenty-five finished the preparatory department of the Normal.

In discussing the success of the closing year today Dr. Linscheid declared "during the present summer session East Central reached its high-water mark in enrollment" and expressed great satisfaction with the co-operation of students, faculty members, and citizens of the town during the year.

A total attendance of 1105 was reached during the summer session, he pointed out. "Not only has the attendance been larger than ever before, but there has been a general spirit of co-operation and an excellent quality of class work accomplished. In general it may be said that this summer has been a 'era of good feeling.' It is very gratifying to the institution that this is the condition and those in charge of it will strive in every way possible to render service to the teachers of the district so that it may continue to deserve their good will." President Linscheid said in his closing statement.

LYNCHING IS FLYED

But "Invisible Empire" Re-

be Strict.

(By the Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Tex., July 21.—Representative Patman of Cass county today presented to Governor Neff a petition bearing the signature of 49 members of the house requesting the executive to submit a bill to the Texas legislature prescribing penalties which will be inflicted on persons "disguising themselves and violating the laws of the state by inflicting punishment upon persons against whom no legal complaint has been filed."

At the same time Mr. Patman said he showed the governor what is purported to be an application blank for membership in the "invisible empire," Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. Beyond remarking that the requirements of the application "were more stringent than he thought," Mr. Neff was non-committal, according to Mr. Patman.

The application blank for membership in the Ku Klux Klan, Mr. Patman said, required prospective members to remit ten dollars and guarantee on honor to conform to the organization's constitution and by-laws.

COMMISSION NOT ALLOWED TO BUY BUILDING BONDS

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, July 21.—The state land commission cannot now constitutionally purchase bonds for the purpose of erecting buildings at state institutions and that section of the house bill 388 passed by the Seventh Legislature directing the secretary of the land commission to purchase such bonds is unconstitutional, according to an opinion handed down here today by C. W. King, assistant to the attorney-general.

The opinion was written in lieu of the proposal of the school land commission to buy $500,000 worth of bonds for the purpose of erecting a dormitory at the University of Oklahoma.

Judge King said, however, that the opinion did not touch the validity of the bonds other than it affects the purchase by the land commission.

Drilling Rigs Are Swept Away During Mexican Oil Fires

(By the Associated Press)
MEXICO CITY, July 21.—Reports concerning the fire in the Amatlan oil field in the state of Vera Cruz received up to late last night were conflicting and meager, although almost all of them agreed that the fire was of accidental origin, possibly from lightning and that the four wells are burning in lot 162, centered about Amatlan, which is about 70 miles southwest of Tampico.

Several dispatches received last night asserted that the whole of lot 162 was swept of drilling rigs.

At 5:30 yesterday afternoon the state rested in the case and within 40 minutes the defense had examined its four witnesses named when the preliminary opened. Attorneys said, however, that more witnesses would be called for their side when the court convened at 9 o'clock this morning.

Much of the testimony given in the preliminary hearing of Frank McClintock, charged with the murder, was reiterated Wednesday. Witnesses for the state went over the same stories of the killing and at several junctures A. L. Bullock and John Crawford attorneys for the defense, opened hot cross-fire to test the memory of witnesses called by the prosecution. Several times records of the McClintock preliminary were referred to in the cross examination.

Sheriff Bob Duncan was placed on the stand repeatedly Wednesday afternoon by County Attorney Wayne Wadlington as new phases of the case were unfolded.

Harry Bunyard, an officer at Roff
at the time of the Martin killing, told of finding the wounded man and bringing him to Ada. Enroute here, the two met S. B. Smith, who is said to have had a conversation with the shot man, part of which Bunyard said he did not hear.

McClintock Shot Me.
"Frank McClintock shot me in cold blood. They robbed me," Martin is said to have told both Bun-yard and Smith. Bunyard said he asked Martin "who robbed you," and he said "they." On the road to Ada, George Martin is also said to have told Harry Bunyard that he was dying and that he had been shot for his whiskey and his money.
Here attorneys for the defense cross questioned Bunyard for several minutes and referred to his testimony taken in the Frank McClintock hearing.

A note written by Mrs. Martin wife of George Martin to Jim Good asking him to get George and the car and bring them home on the night of May 2 when he is said to have been drunk was introduced by the defense as an exhibit. This note was delivered to Albert Johnson with instructions to give it to Good or to Pat Strong, a howling alley proprietor of Roff, for delivery. The note was delivered to Strong but never reached Good, it was brought out. Good's whereabouts during and immediately after the shooting was made the ground of contention in the closing testimony of the state and throughout that of the defense.
Attorney Robert Wimbley, assisting in the prosecution, poured heavy questioning to Strong endeavoring to learn why the note from Mrs.
Martin to Jim Good was not delivered.

INDIANS ASK BIG WHITE CHIEF TO SET ASIDE DAY IN RED MAN'S HONOR

Chief Buffalo Bear and Princess Buffalo Bear.

President Harding probably receives more unusual guests than any other one man. Recently he was visited by Chief and Princess Buffalo Bear, Sioux Indians of South Dakota. They called to urge that a day be set apart as Indian Day to honor the American Indians who fought in the world war. The Indians brought presents of mocassins for Mrs. Harding and the head dress of a chief for the Great White Chief.

FRENCH-ENGLISH RUPTURE FEARED

Reply to Note on Silesia
Is Described as Very
"Unyielding."

(By the Associated Press)
PARIS, July 21.—French official circles received a distinct shock from the British government's reply to the French suggestion that allied re-inforcements be sent to upper Silesia and in some quarters today
the Anglo-French relations were described as critical as a result.

The French government is said to have been unprepared for the "severity and unyielding tone" that this morning's newspapers indicated characterized the British communication.

While most newspapers agree that the incident brings the Anglo-French relations to a delicate point, the Journal says that it is probably not insoluble.

The Temps, commenting on the British desire for a meeting of the Supreme Council in the immediate future, offers the objection that the council would inevitably have to discuss the upper Silesian problem.

Aerial Transport Covers Vast Area in Desert Region

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, July 21.—Regions that would have to wait many years before they could be traversed by railways are now quickly mastered by aerial transport. News comes today from the Air Ministry that a new air route has been opened up across the desert between Palestine and Mesopotamia. Notification has been received of the arrival at Bagdad of three airplanes of the Royal Air Force, which have flown over this route.

The new route is about 580 miles long. It is an extension of the present Cairo-Ramleh route. It starts from Ramleh, where is the main Royal Air Force aerodrome in Palestine, passes through Amman East of the Jordan, and Kasr Azrak, where landing grounds have been prepared, and proceeds thence in an almost straight line across the Arabian desert to Ramadiah on the Euphrates, and thence to Bagdad.

GUTHRIE LAWYER CUTS ARTERIES AND SUCCUMBS

(By the Associated Press)
GUTHRIE, July 21.—Charles S.
Seelye, prominent Guthrie business man, was found dead today in a lavatory at his office. An open pocket knife lay on the floor beside the body. Arteries in both wrists had been severed.

NORMAL TO CLOSE WORK FOR TERM

Rush of Students for Home
Will Open at Noon
Tomorrow.

Hundreds of Normal school students will start making their exodus from Ada tomorrow noon with the dismissal of the last class of the summer term. Enrollment this summer has been unusually heavy and railways passing through Ada are expecting crowded trains for at least two days after the close of the Normal.

With the commencement address this morning by Dr. W. A. Brandenburg, president of the Pittsburg, Kansas state normal, the end of the session was in sight. Bachelor of arts degrees were awarded by President A. Linscheid to six students and life diplomas were issued to a record graduating class. Twenty-five finished the preparatory department of the Normal.

In discussing the success of the closing year today Dr. Linscheid declared "during the present summer session East Central reached its high-water mark in enrollment" and expressed great satisfaction with the co-operation of students, faculty members, and citizens of the town during the year.

A total attendance of 1105 was reached during the summer session, he pointed out. "Not only has the attendance been larger than ever before, but there has been a general spirit of co-operation and an excellent quality of class work accomplished. In general it may be said that this summer has been an 'era of good feeling.' It is very gratifying to the institution that this is the condition, and those in charge of it will strive in every way possible to render service to the teachers of the district so that it may continue to deserve their good will." President Linscheid said in his closing statement.

MICHIGAN TRUST COMPANY CLOSED BY BANK OFFICER

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, July 21.—The Michigan Avenue Trust Company today was closed by the state bank examiners.

An examination of the books was immediately started. The officials disclaimed any knowledge of a shortage in the bank's accounts and said the examination was only
"routine."

A recent statement of the bank showed deposits of more than $3-400,000; capital stock $200,000;
surplus, $50,000 and undivided profits $15,821.99.

TEXAS MAY OPEN WAR ON KNIGHTS OF K. K. K. ORDER

Petition to Governor May Start Opposition to
"Fiery Cross."

LYNCHING IS PLAYED

But "Invisible Empire" Requirements Found to be Strict.

(By the Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Tex., July 21.—Representative Patman of Cass county today presented to Governor Neff a petition bearing the signature of 49 members of the house requesting the executive to submit a bill to the Texas legislature prescribing penalties which will be inflicted on persons "disguising themselves and violating the laws of the state by inflicting punishment upon persons against whom no legal complaint has been filed."

At the same time Mr. Patman said he showed the governor what is purported to be an application blank for membership in the "invisible empire." Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. Beyond remarking that the requirements of the application
"were more stringent than he thought," Mr. Neff was non-commi-tal, according to Mr. Patman.

The application blank for membership in the Ku Klux Klan, Mr.
Patman said, required prospective members to remit ten dollars and guarantee on honor to conform to the organization's constitution and by-laws.

COMMISSION NOT ALLOWED TO BUY BUILDING BONDS

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, July 21.—The state land commission cannot now constitutionally purchase bonds for the purpose of erecting buildings at state institutions and that section of the house bill 388 passed by the Seventh Legislature directing the secretary of the land commission to purchase such bonds is unconstitutional, according to an opinion handed down here today by C. W.
King, assistant to the attorney-general.

The opinion was written in lieu of the proposal of the school land commission to buy $500,000 worth of bonds for the purpose of erecting a dormitory at the University of Oklahoma.

Judge King said, however, that the opinion did not touch the validity of the bonds other than it affects the purchase by the land commission.

Drilling Rigs Are Swept Away During Mexican Oil Fires

(By the Associated Press)
MEXICO CITY, July 21.—Reports concerning the fire in the Amatlan oil field in the state of Vera Cruz received up to late last night were conflicting and meager, although almost all of them agreed that the fire was of accidental origin, possibly from lightning and that the four wells are burning in lot 162, centered about Amatlan, which is about 70 miles southwest of Tampico.

Several dispatches received last night asserted that the whole of lot 162 was swept of drilling rigs.

the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad was announced here today.
A reduction in the salaries of supervisory officers to "meet the

This is the information that was being given out this afternoon by O. N. Walker, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce to concession seekers who wish to run stands for the farmers' meeting. The rally will be held at the Normal and control of the grounds is vested in the college administration, Walker said.

Hundreds of cones and gallons of

OBREGON'S CONCLUSION

President Alvaro Obregon, of Mexico, in a recent edition of the Mexican Review, analyzes the trouble between the United States and his own nation. He says that the relations between the two countries are affected: "First, as a result of the revolutionary convulsions which during ten years have disturbed Mexico, and second, as a result of the neutrality, in which Mexico had to maintain herself during the great world war."

He says that in the wars in that country it was only natural that American interests would suffer with the rest. The Mexican people, mindful of their sovereignty, did not approve the occupation of Vera Cruz by American forces, neither did they approve the punitive expedition into the northern part of Mexico by General Pershing.

After analyzing the situation as he sees it, the Mexican president reaches this conclusion:

"What is lacking, then, for the fulfillment of that beneficial and friendly co-operation between the governments of Mexico and the United States, so much desired by the inhabitants of both countries? That the American government placing itself above the unwholesome tendencies, transitory characteristics and absurd impatience of a few material interests, do justice to the people and government of Mexico by applying the traditional policy initiated by Jefferson in these memorable words: 'According to our principles, we must recognize as legal any government constituted in conformity with the will of a nation, substantially stated.'"

And why should we longer withhold recognition of the Obregon government? The country is more peaceful than it has been since Diaz, and the encouragement given the government by the American recognition might keep the country peaceful.

HERESY IN THE ADMINISTRATION

Belief in the efficacy of a protective tariff as a panacea for all our industrial ills is one of the tenets of republicanism. But there is heresy in the administration at Washington. A member of the cabinet not only believes it is not the only prop of our business, but has dared to say so openly and without being called to account, at least publicly. The cabinet member is Herbert Hoover. "The hard times that knock at every cottage door came from Europe," said Mr. Hoover in a prepared address the other day. "No tariffs—mark the word—no embargoes, no navies, no armies can defend us from these invasions. Our sole defense is the prosperity of our neighbors and our own commercial skill."

One of the reasons why hard times have come from Europe has been the failure of the United States to accept the peace treaty which has not only caused unsettlement in Europe. Had the United States promptly accepted the peace treaty we would certainly have been much further along the way and might have been there without any period of depression such as we are now witnessing. It appears that we are now getting ready to go back nearly two years, do under some other name and some difference in procedure what we ought to have done promptly. When we get this done then we may expect a return of more prosperous conditions.—Wichita Times.

SMILING AT GRIEF

It's too hot to argue the theory of relativity, or the tariff, or higher education, but here's one friend wife and friend husband can quarrel over to their heart's content without even getting up a sweat.

Does a woman bear up under grief more valiantly than man?

The question is propounded, following a feature article appearing in several newspapers, with pictures of Mrs. Stillman, Mrs. Kaber and Mrs. Leeds. All of the photographs show smiling woman, and the articles goes on to state that they smile because it is the nature of women to smile in the face of abject grief.

Patience sitting on a monument smiling at grief. Mona Lisa.

There is no doubt about the side hubby will take. He knows that men can stand more sorrow than women. Hasn't he done it?

And wifey, secure in the knowledge of her own burdens and pain, will be only convinced against her will, which is no conviction at all—even if she is outargued.

So go to it!—McAlester News-Capital.

Manager McSwain may feel complimented that children and even some grownups try to beat their way into his show. It demonstrates that he has such good things that the absence of money makes the heart no less fond.

We must compliment the commissioners for their efforts to keep this a weedless city. It looks better than usual this time of the season and this in despite more rain than usual has fallen, causing thereby more weeds and grass to grow.

YOUR REAL WEALTH.
Barleaville Examiner: A sound body and good health; that is your real wealth.

No one can steal it. Barring accidents or unusually bad luck, it cannot be destroyed except by your own negligence.

Health is what really counts. Money is only surface-wealth. With good health back of you, you can somehow manage to get by financially.

Eleven years ago this month, Frank Parkinson, student at the Montana School of Mines, was blinded by an explosion.

The accident destroyed part of his real wealth—a sound body.

With $100, his total savings, he opened a candy store in Vancouver. Despite his handicap, he forged ahead, accumulating money.

Now he owns an inter-city auto bus line, operating out of Canas, Wash., and has been offered $40,000 for the business.

Harry Christy, professional athlete, strained his back in a gymnasium. Paralysis set in.

He can move nothing but his right hand and eyes. He's been sitting in one position, strapped in a harness on the same chair, for six years. One leg has been amputated and soon he must lose the other.

Harry Christy has lost most of his natural wealth—health and a sound body.

Yet he is one of the most capable business men in Newark, N. J. From his invalid's chair he manages a large haberdashery business which he has built up since physical misfortune overtook him.

Compared with blind Frank Parkinson and paralyzed Harry Christy, your lot in life is a very easy one.

Both of them were financially poor when health, their real wealth, became impaired.

Yet despite their handicaps, they achieved success to a satisfactory degree.

And you still have health—your real wealth.

Why be discouraged.

Troop No. 4 won first place last week in the new park contest because its grass was mowed and its flower beds clean. Troop 3 won second place and Troop 5 third place.

Troop No. 2 would have won a place last week and probably Troop 1 also but Troop 2 didn't fill in the ditch and Troop 1 scouts didn't touch their bed. Remember that ice cream will taste mighty good one of these days. All who work on the lawn will get a treat.

Superintendent Giltman of the Latta Consolidated school visited headquarters Saturday to discuss plans for the Latta scouts. The scout executive planned to make Latta this week, but other engagements interfered.

Scouts Hike To Lodge

The North Ada scouts hiked to the lodge Monday evening. Ralph Morrow thought he could drink the dairy dry and so started by buying a half gallon of milk. After he had drunk one quart he called on Vester Willoughby to help him out. Alton Warr showed that he could talk in his sleep and Carl Houston kept us awake some by his snoring. Cotton Williams dreamed he was catching for the Irving school troop and Mr. Dan Proctor on the nose with an orange peel. If any scout thinks Hiram Collins and Jenks Feaster can't cake walk, ask Chester Sneed. Ray Wilson and Johnnie Vogt. After a big breakfast of fried eggs, bacon and chicken the scouts hiked home.

Several excursions planned have had to be abandoned owing to the swollen state of rivers.

ICELAND'S KING ENTERS COUNTRY FOR FIRST TIME

(By the Associated Press)

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, July 21.—The first king of Iceland set foot for the first time yesterday on Icelandic soil. The welcome extended by the islanders to Christian X, of Denmark, and also of Iceland, bore a solemnly fervent character; apparently more solemn than was anticipated by the gay, easy-going crowd of Danish visitors who had come over for the occasion.

The Icelanders themselves took their King's visit tremendously seriously and regarded it as an event of momentous import. The majority of the capital's 18,000 inhabitants spent the day around the public school building, which was made the official residence of the Danish royals, and rebaptized the castle Reykjavik's 190 automobiles were taxed heavily carrying important looking looking uniformed and decorated dignitaries to and from the 'castle.'

At a gala dinner, Queen Alexandra wore the Icelandic national dress, the 70,000-kroner gift of the women of Iceland. With her heavy golden crown, it made the Queen look like a tapestry picture of a viking queen of old Edda times.

Iceland being "dry," the loyal toasts were honored in mineral waters and lemonade.

In commemoration of his visit King Christian has instituted a new decoration; the order of the Icelandic Falcon.

Both the King and Queen will visit historical Icelandic places on horseback. The King will be mounted on a beautiful white charger 14 hands high; the tallest horse in Iceland.

Several excursions planned have had to be abandoned owing to the swollen state of rivers.

TWO MEN ARE CHARGED WITH RECENT ROBBERY

Buck Jones and A. Stevens were arrested this morning by Deputy Sheriff J. B. Chapman and placed in the county jail on a charge of highway robbery. The two men, it is alleged, held up Doc Cobbett on North Broadway last Saturday night and took about $1.50 in change from his pockets. Stevens held the gun while Jones took the money, it is charged.

Twenty-four persons, the greatest number since August, 1917, are now in the county jail. County Sheriff Bob Duncan said this morning. This number is about evenly divided between felony cases and those serving sentences for misdemeanors, he estimated.

GOVERNMENT PAYROLL BEING CUT TO THE LIMIT

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(Capital News Service)—Uncle Sam's payroll is being cut down with a vengeance. With each recurring payday, hundreds, and in some cases thousands, are dropped from the lists. As a result, many who came to Washington for war work are hopelessly seeking other positions. Occasionally a few find employment but gradually those from outside the city are returning to their homes. The charge is being made that dismissals are not made in harmony with the civil service law, which fixes a quota for each state, and also that the District of Columbia is keeping much more than its share of employees on the rolls.

OIL COMPANIES FILE PROTEST TO WRIGHT

(By the Associated Press)
TULSA, July 21.—The Sinclair Oil and Gas company, Minnehoma, Oklahoma, and other Tulsa oil interests late yesterday filed in the district court of Judge Lucien B. Wright at Sapulpa a formal request that he disqualify himself from further proceedings in the Lete Kolvin case, involving the title of oil property worth between three and five million dollars.

The request was lodged on the grounds that Judge Wright was recently informed against by Attorney General Freeling and is now under arrest charged with having solicited accepted and received a bribe for deciding the two million dollar Tommy Atkins case.

In addition to reciting that he is now charged with felony it is alleged that Judge Wright, while the oil case was before him, was so under the influence of liquor while on the bench during the hearing of evidence that he could not make an intelligent decision.

WAR FINANCE BOARD TO PROTECT COTTON

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 21.—The war finance corporation has under consideration proposals for cotton export involving about 500,000 bales and $20,000,000. Director Eugene Meyer announced Wednesday.

The export financing, he said, contemplates shipment of 200,000 bales from Oklahoma and 300,000 from Texas.

With the 400,000 bales and about $10,000,000 worth of cotton business already due by the corporation Mr. Meyer said, the completed and proposed operations of the corporation at present amounted to 900,000 bales and $30,000,000.

Mr. Meyer in a statement endorsed the action of the federal reserve board in ruling that loans may be made indirectly to new member banks on the ground that this procedure would afford relief in the south.

Oklahoma's 1920 crop of cotton was 1,300,000 bales, exclusive of linters. Figured on a basis of the 1920 crop the war finance corporation proposal will care for thirteen per cent of the 1921 crop.

Type That Has Vanished.
The Black hills prospector, that unique character who has furnished many a theme for novels built around man's quest for gold, practically has disappeared from South Dakota. E. C. Yates of Lead, S. D., declared in an address before the twenty-third annual convention of the American Mining congress.

Passing of the prospector has been due primarily to the fact, according to Yates, that "the gold taken from the mines does not have sufficient value to pay the cost of production." He described the gold industry in the Black hills as being "in a state of disintegration."

TULSA RIOT CASE IS DRAGGED OUT

Cross Examination Takes Up Much Time During Hearing.

(By the Associated Press)
TULSA, July 21.—Ray Ward, himself accused under a grand jury count of being party to an alleged police plot to permit automobiles to be stolen to collect insurance and rewards, was subjected to a long cross-examination today in the case of Chief John A. Gustafson, on trial for removal from office.

The chief is also accused on the same automobile count and also with failure to prevent the race riot and has been suspended pending the jury verdict.

Ward adhered to the story told yesterday and a rapid fire of questions by the assistant county attorney failed to shake the testimony in any of the substantial points. He made a general denial of the charge and the testimony of the state witnesses that he was party to the theft of automobiles.

Hopes that the case might end today were apparently blasted by the long cross-examination.

GOVERNOR TO ASK IMMEDIATE TRIAL

Illinois Executive Held on Charge of Fraud of Big Sum.

(By the Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 21.—Governor Small, it is said today, will stand on the opinion of his counsel and refuse to submit to arrest on the warrant charging him with embezzlement, conspiracy and confidence game as a result of yesterday's indictment of the governor, Lieutenant Governor Sterling and Vernon Curtis, banker.

Opinions holding that the governor is immune from arrest are being drafted by his legal staff to be presented to Judge Smith later in the day.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 21.—Governor Small is expected to appear in court today to furnish bond and demand immediate trial in connection with an indictment returned yesterday by the Sangamon county grand jury charging conspiracy to defraud the state and the embezzlement of public funds.

Lieutenant Governor Sterling and Vernon S. Curtis, one of the owners of the Grant Park Bank, who are named jointly with Governor Small in the indictment, will probably be served warrants today and will take similar action.

The indictment returned charged the three men with conspiracy to defraud the state of two million dollars and the embezzlement of $700,000 jointly, while Governor Small is charged with having embezzled $5,000 and Lieutenant Sterling is charged with a like amount.

The Red Peril.
Manufacturer and Industrial News: Property worth $250,000,000 goes up in smoke every year, Franklin H. Wentworth of Boston, asserted in a recent address in San Francisco.

He urged co-operation by local organizations of citizens to eliminate fire hazards which were enormously reducing the national wealth.

Wentworth, who is secretary of the National Fire Protection Association, said that in the first four months of this year there had been a loss of $12,000,000, but that before the end of 1921 there would be a loss of a quarter of a billion dollars. He said:

"There are optimists in America who state that we are reducing the fire waste because this average figure of $250,000,000 now represents inflated values. There is little comfort in that academic reflection. The present housing situation is too desperate for us to be so complacent over it."

"Every fire today is a crime against the whole people; a crime for which we should not withhold punishment. Every community today for its own preservation, should bring swift legal reprisals against the person who has a preventable fire."

Nation's Credit on Sound Basis

By FRANCIS H. Sisson,
Vice President Guaranty Trust Company of New York.

WE may arrive at a better understanding of the problems presented by the present stringent credit situation perhaps if we recall some of the important factors that have created present conditions. The tremendous losses caused by the World War, of course, were primarily responsible. To meet the emergencies of war the people of this country sent billions of dollars in food, fuel, munitions and loans to Europe.

Production and distribution in the United States, it is estimated, has been increased from 15 to 20 per cent since 1914. Commodity prices generally increased 140 per cent from 1914 to the peak in February, 1920, and they have fallen only 25 per cent since. Consequently a tremendous and unparalleled demand for capital was created. Where a bank, for instance, had lent $1,000 to a business concern in 1914 it became necessary in 1919 to lend $2,400 to perform the same business service.

While deposits in the banks increased from about eighteen billion dollars in 1914 to thirty-eight billion dollars in 1920, loans and discounts increased from fifteen billion dollars in 1914 to thirty-one billion dollars in 1920. The Federal Reserve banks in 1915 discounted bills for member banks to the amount of one hundred and sixty-one million dollars. In 1919 the amount of bills discounted by the Federal Reserve Banks aggregated seventy-nine billions of dollars.

The period of unusually active business and rising prices following the war was characterized by a wave of extravagant buying by domestic consumers. Speculation was rampant. Capital expenditures in preparation for meeting the unusual demand on the part of the public for goods naturally tended to be excessive in many instances. In the first ten months of 1920 industrial financing broke all records, with an aggregate of more than two billion dollars in bonds, notes and stocks.

This period was also characterized by extraordinary demands on the part of foreign countries for American goods. It was to be expected, however, that with the progressive industrial recuperation of the recently belligerent countries there would be a reduced demand eventually for American goods in those markets. And domestic buying could not be expected to continue indefinitely on an extravagant scale. Accordingly, in order to forestall the possibility of an extremely dangerous industrial situation in this country, it became necessary to check the further expansion of credit in general.

The logical corrective for threatening over-expansion was the raising of discount rates by the Federal Reserve Banks, accompanied by a purpose to restrict credit accommodation to those borrowers whose collateral gave promise of retaining safe margins of value under conditions of probable commodity price recessions. The application of these means has helped to bring about a more normal business activity without an intervening period of widespread and sustained depression.

Yet, despite the tremendous increase in commodity prices and wages, it is noteworthy that the cost of money has increased, on the average, less than twenty-five per cent. In the face of greatly increased operating expenses and losses, inevitable in business reaction, the bankers have been ultra-conservative in fixing rates. Money has been the cheapest element in business enterprise.

It is the function of the banks to vitalize credit by productive processes and make it of use to the community. The first and highest duty of bankers is to put available credit in usable form and to distribute and apportion it for the good of the whole community. In discharging this duty bankers must exercise their best judgment and always give heed to the condition of their reserves.

It must be recognized, of course, that general reduction in commodity prices cannot be effected without hardship to many elements of the business community. Any business carrying on hand stocks of raw materials or finished goods generally incurs the risk of depreciating values. When prices are rising, profits are in part the result of appreciation in the values of such holdings, and conversely, in a period of declining values the risk of monetary loss is incurred. In a period of rising prices the credit demands are progressive and tend, if met, to stimulate further price advances. Accordingly, the banks must necessarily exercise restraint upon the expanding volume of credit when it threatens to exceed the limits of safety. In the very nature of the case, moreover, it is not the function of the banking system to endeavor to prevent a recession of prices which the state of production and consumption requires.

The fact that the inevitable readjustments have thus far been effected without really serious difficulties gives promise that there will be further gradual readjustments with a more prompt resumption of normal prosperity than would have been possible had the process of credit expansion been unbridled.

The speed with which approximate stabilization in business is to be brought about will depend largely upon developments abroad, particularly in Europe. Industrial recuperation in eastern and central Europe has been slow in the two years since the armistice, and in many other countries, including some in which post-war recuperation and readjustment have made gratifying progress, there is now a slackening of business activity comparable to that in this country.

This condition is a fundamental factor affecting our foreign trade. Inasmuch as our productive capacity in general is greater than is required for domestic needs, it is extremely important that our export trade be fostered during the remainder of the transition period. The financing of our export operations, in fact, will continue for some time one of the chief concerns of American bankers.

The banks as a whole are in a sound condition and the necessary machinery and organization are at hand to provide for the continuation of an orderly domestic business readjustment in a period of declining prices.

The Federal Reserve System was established in November, 1914, but not until June, 1917, shortly after our declaration of war, was there adopted the present requirement that all legally prescribed reserves of member banks should be kept in Reserve banks. The real strength of the credit position of the banks depends, of course, upon the character of the paper they hold, its liquidity and intrinsic worth.

Through the operation of the Federal Reserve System, however, a large part of the paper held by member banks has been given a liquidity which was formerly unknown.

The present strength of the reserve position of the Federal Reserve System is indicated by the potential, but unused, capacity for further credit expansion by the Federal Reserve banks through their members.

On December 3, 1920, the Federal Reserve banks held gold reserves of $2,022,675,000. Of this amount, $1,743,582,850 constituted part of the required reserves against deposits and note liabilities, leaving $279,092,150 of free gold (free gold consists of gold holdings in excess of the 40 per cent required as reserve for outstanding Federal Reserve notes, 5 per cent reserve against Federal Reserve Bank notes, and the amount, which, with other cash holdings, equals thirty-five per cent of the net deposits, required as reserve for such deposits under the Federal Reserve act). Net deposits and note liabilities totalled $5,194,230,000, representing a credit structure about three times the gold holdings, other than free gold, or about 2.7 times the total reserves, other than free gold. If all the free gold should serve to support additional members' reserve deposits in amount 2.7 times the free gold, members' deposits would increase by $753,548,805.

According to the report of the condition of 825 member banks as of November 12, 1920, their aggregate net deposits were about 10.2 times their reserve balances with Federal reserve banks. If a 10 to 1 ratio of deposits to reserve balances is assumed for all member banks, the potential increase of $753,548,805 in members' reserve deposits represents a potential increase in deposits held by members of about $7,535,000,000.

It is not suggested, however, that any such expansion of the credit structure on the basis of the existing free gold in the Federal Reserve banks should occur. The free gold is necessarily subject to considerable fluctuations, and it would be dangerous to expand credit at any time to the theoretical maximum limit. The figure is presented merely to show the conservation with which the problem of bank credits is being met.

In view of our fundamentally sound credit position, therefore, it would seem that what we need above all else now is a stabilization of prices at new levels that will bring consumers back into the market. And not until the readjustment has been carried through the list, and prices of basic commodities, such as steel and coal, recede and general retail prices fall to lower levels, can we find a new starting point.

But stabilization of commodity prices can be accomplished only by greater production at lower costs, in order that goods may be offered to the public at prices which will revive buying. There is still a vast unsatisfied demand for all kinds of products in this country, as well as throughout the world, but prices must become commensurate with purchasing power before business can hope to reach a stable basis. And the withholding of goods from the market, as well as every unnecessary delay in marketing them, lessens the available supply of credit by "freezing" the credit required to carry the goods until they are sold. So, also, do unwarranted strikes congeal credit, as well as interfere with productivity.

We cannot achieve the urgently needed stabilization of business conditions until those retail merchants who are considering only present profits and forgetting that temporary gains may mean permanent losses later on adjust themselves to the trend of the day, and cease endeavoring to suspend the operation of economic laws.

But, while the readjustment period through which we are passing is necessarily painful, the process is wholesome and beneficial; and, fundamentally, economic conditions in the United States are absolutely sound.

The crops this year have been bountiful. Our transportation facilities have been vastly improved through increased efficiency under private control, which has been equivalent to adding 600,000 freight cars to the railroad service.

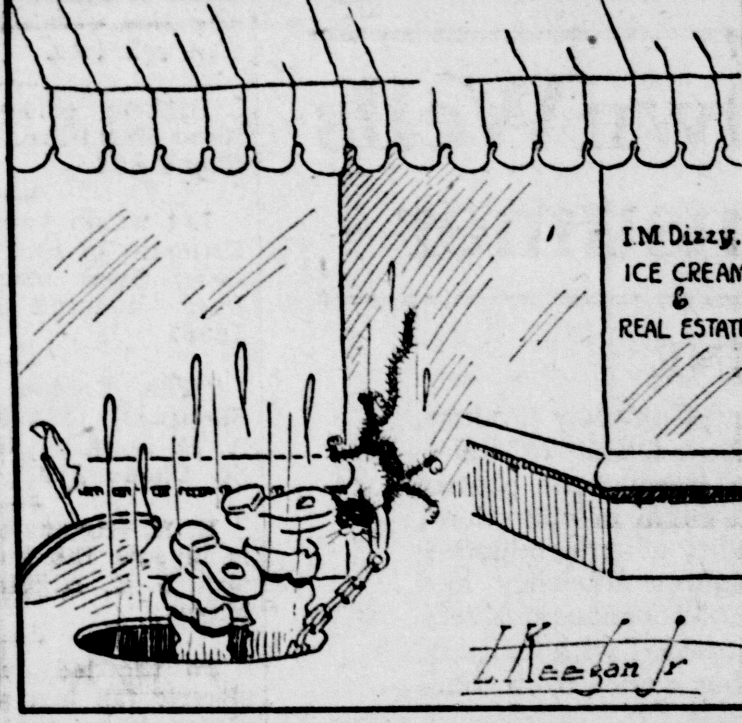

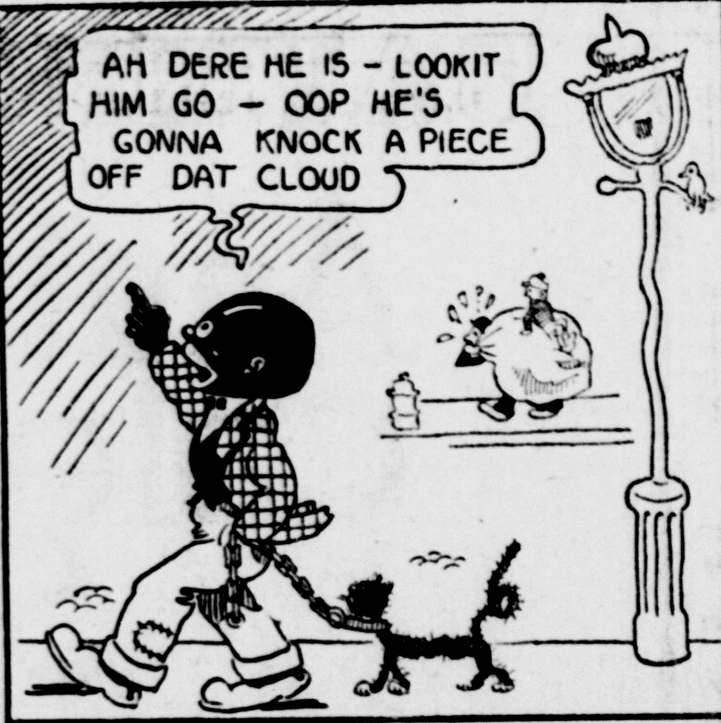

Another extremely important factor that is gradually but materially effecting a betterment in our industrial situation is increased efficiency per man among our laborers. The drones are being driven from our industrial beehives. As a consequence, we are beginning to increase our production at lower costs, which, as I have pointed out, is absolutely essential to maintain our export trade and preserve our prosperity.

In view of all these factors, it would seem probable that an improvement in credit conditions will mark the early part of 1921, and that a new and more stable basis for business is in prospect. We should plan accordingly for the next twelve months with vision and courage—vision to see realities and courage to face those realities and act.

Following is the proposed layout of games:

- Oct. 1.—At Tulsa; Tulsa University.

Rural Education Is New Department for Students of Normal

A regular department of Rural School Education, with a member of the faculty assigned as director, will be established at East Central Normal here beginning September 5, according to official announcement today.

The object of the department is to bring about a closer co-operation between rural, village, and consolidated schools and these schools with the Normal. The director of the new department will work in connection with the state rural school inspector and with the county superintendents of the eleven counties in the Normal district.

E. H. Nelson, who holds A. B. and A. M. degrees from the University of Arkansas, will have charge of the rural education department which is expected to be one of the strongest features of the Normal's work next fall. Mr. Nelson has done considerable work in rural schools and in town schools with a distinct rural environment and one of the principal branches of his work will be in making the trips to schools over the various counties in the district to study methods being used and to suggest improvements.

WIFE HAS RIGHT TO WALK WITH A MAN SAYS COURT

(By the Associated Press)
TALLAHASSEE, Fla., July 21.—A wife has the right to be alone with a man-friend on a public highway without interference from her husband, according to a recent decision of the Florida Supreme court.

The case came up through a husband meeting his wife riding alone with another man. He attacked the man, and as a result of the fight that ensued his wife's companion was convicted of assault with intent to murder. The state supreme court reversed the lower tribunal.

"There may have been a time when a wife was regarded as her husband's chattel, and being out alone on a public road with another man regarded as sufficient provocation to justify the husband in making an assault upon her companion, but this is no longer true, when women enjoy equal freedom with men," said the opinion read by Chief Justice Brown.

A married woman with another man or a married man with another woman, is not sufficient provocation to justify an assault by either spouse, and the greater freedom of intercourse between men and women in this day protects them from unwarranted attacks by a jealous husband or wife, who sees in innocent acts of social intercourse "confirmations strong as proofs of holy writ" that they are flagrantly immoral."

Bids must be made upon proposal sheets to be furnished by the City. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check in amount of Two Hundred Dollars ($200.00) as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder. The check of the successful bidder to be forfeited to the City as admitted liquidated damages in case of failure on the part of the bidder to enter into contract and furnish the required bonds within ten (10) days after the acceptance of his proposal. Certified check shall be made to the order of the City Clerk or the City of Ada, Oklahoma, and shall have no other endorsement or condition thereon. The successful bidder on each district will be required to furnish a Statutory Lien Bond in the full amount of his contract with securities to be approved by the Board of Commissioners, said bond to guarantee that Contractor will pay all accounts for material, machinery rental and labor that may become due on account of his operations under the contract. Said bond after being approved by the Board of Commissioners shall be filed by the City Clerk and Commissioner of Accounting and Finance in the office of the Court Clerk of Pontotoc County.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish on each district a surety construction bond in approximately the full amount of his contract conditioned on the full and faithful performance by him of all covenants and agreements by him made in his contract and on the fulfillment by him of all terms and conditions of plans and specifications.

Said bond shall be in force and effect for a period of six (6) months from the date of acceptance of the work and may if desired be included as a part of the construction bond.

All bids on the district will be opened and considered by the Board of Commissioners at their regular meeting at 2:00 o'clock, P. M. on the 2nd day of August, 1921, and contracts awarded to the lowest and best bidder as soon thereafter as required by the City Charter, the Board of Commissioners reserving the right to reject any and all bids and to readvertise for bids in case none of the bids received are satisfactory.

Each bidder shall accompany his bid with a sworn statement, in writing, that the bidder has not directly or indirectly entered into any agreement, expressed or implied, with any other bidder or bidders having for its object the control of the price and amount of such bids or limiting the number of bidders. No bidder shall divulge said sealed bids to any person whatsoever except those having a partnership or other financial interests with him in said bid, until after the said bids are opened.

All bids are required to be placed on file in the office of the City Clerk for inspection for two (2) days after opening before the award or rejection of bids can be made.

Any and all parties interested are hereby notified that they may appear and protest against or object to said proposed improvement or any part thereof, or any matter or thing in relation thereto, at said meeting of the Board of Commissioners on the 2nd day of August, 1921. Plans and specifications are on file in the office of the City Clerk and Commissioner of Accounting and Finance, Ada, Oklahoma, and can be procured upon payment of Ten Dollars ($10.00) at the office of Johnson & Benham, 8th Floor Firestone Building, Kansas City, Missouri. Upon return of all plans and specifications in good condition a refund of Five Dollars ($5.00) will be made.

Signed this 19th day of July, 1921. W. B. JONES, City Clerk and Commissioner of Accounting and Finance.
